Orthodox Spirituality: Prayer Corner

When we leave Church on Sunday we must remember that just because we leave this building we never actually leave the Church. The Church is not the building. It is each and every one of us! The Church is the people of God. The people who have received the call of the Lord and answered His call.

Since we don't leave the Church we must cultivate the Holiness of the Temple within our souls at all times. We must remember to pray and read the scriptures everyday. We all need to make our homes "little churches".

Our lives become busy, but we must never be too busy for the Lord. One way to help remind us to grow in our Christian faith is to have a daily prayer ritual. A ritual that becomes a habit that we cannot break.

In order to put yourself in the right frame of mind set up a prayer corner. A place with icons in your home that calls you to prayers daily. Remember that you are the Church; and our homes are meant to be "little churches".
